PRESIDENT SPEAKS IN COMMEMORATION OF ANNIVERSARY OF GEN. GRANT'S BIRTH

Gratifying American Achievement Will Be Held Secure By Patriots
DEPLORES THE CHAOS IN MANY WORLD AREAS
Sectionalism of Grant's Days Gives Way To Better Understanding

(International News Service)
POINT PLEASANT, Ohio, April 27—Against the menace of enemies within our borders a century and a half of gratifying American achievement will be held secure for all time by the patriotic citizenship of the republic, President Harding here today in an address in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Ulysses S. Grant.
"The future of the United States," the President said to the thousands who were gathered here from all parts of Ohio and neighboring states, "is guaranteed so long as leaders among men put the country's good above personal and political advantage."
The President deplored the chaos that still prevails in some parts of the world and expressed deep regret that true peace had failed to follow in the wake of victory.
"I cannot help but believe," he said, "that something of the spirit with which Grant welcomed victory, something of the eagerness to return to peaceful ways would have speeded the restoration and hastened the return to prosperity and happiness without which there can be no abiding peace."
The sectionalism which beset the nation in the days of Grant has given way to "far less menacing divisions," President Harding said, which makes the ferment out of which all progress comes.
"The contentions which beset us are not ours alone," he continued.

Court Order Halts Money Shipments

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 27—Contending that the revenue to be received will not warrant the expense, the American Railway Express company today obtained from the circuit court a temporary injunction preventing the public service commission from requiring the company to receive money shipments from the Bank of Camden the evening before the train leaves Camden. The order was issued last month.
The express company contends that the reception of the money the evening before would force the employment of a night watchman at Camden. It insists that the company's profit on money shipments from the bank is not more than an average of $1.45 a week. The train leaves Camden early in the morning and the bank insisted that the express company receive its shipments in the afternoon.

German Officers For Reds Rumored

(International News Service)
LONDON, April 27—Britain has received semi-official information that Germany is to furnish officers for the soviet army and navy. The news has caused great anxiety in Whitehall and it is believed here to have been the cause of Premier Lloyd George's startling and pessimistic speech in Genoa last night.

2 PRISONERS MAKE ESCAPE FROM JAIL WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Two negro prisoners dug themselves to liberty sometime Wednesday night out of the Morgan county jail. The escape was effected by digging away the brick and mortar, the instrument used being a small knife blade.
According to officers, there is a negro confined in jail with a broken leg, and one of the negroes who made his escape was delegated to attend the injured prisoner through the night, and aided the other one to make his escape also.
The escape was not discovered until Thursday morning when breakfast was being served to the inmates. One of the negroes was charged with violating the prohibition laws, the other for carrying concealed weapons. Every effort is being made by the sheriff's force to apprehend the escapees, but up to this time no trace of their whereabouts is probably known. This is the first jail delivery occurring in some time in this institution. It is considered quite an easy matter, once outside the cages, and armed with the proper implement to dig away the brick and effect an opening large enough to admit escape.

OFFICER RETURNS

Chief Law Enforcement Officer Campbell is back after several days spent in Jackson and Madison counties. Mr. Campbell says planting is progressing fine in these sister counties, especially in Madison. He spoke of big plantation owner who has already planted 400 acres to cotton and 500 acres to corn. This plantation is near Gurley, and is one of the largest in the county mentioned.

New Rails For L. & N. Road

The Louisville and Nashville Railroad company is placing heavy steel rails along the way of its double track between Albany and Flint. The rails appear heavier than any previously used. They are being strung out on the right of way on either side of track ready to be placed in position. With the ever increasing heavy traffic the railroads find it necessary from time to time to lay heavier rails to support the heavier and longer trains.

Motorman Lost, Car Is Wrecked; Twenty Are Hurt

(International News Service)
BIRMINGHAM, April 27—Twenty persons, six white and 14 negroes, were injured, only two of them seriously, today when a West End street car lurched on its rails, threw motorman and conductor off the platform, and plunged down a steep grade for one block and crashed against a telephone pole after leaving the tracks.
The car was demolished by the impact. Miraculous escapes from death by the passengers is the topic of conversation. Those most seriously injured will recover.

DAMAGES AWARDED

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 27—(Special)—The Atlantic Coast Line railroad will be required to pay Joseph J. Buffington $8,000 for injuries received by Mr. Buffington while employed by the railroad. A jury in the circuit court gave judgment for this amount today following the trial of Mr. Buffington's suit for $25,000.

HORNED TOAD FOUND IN CLEAN UP DRIVE; IS PUT ON DISPLAY

The clean up campaign, which is being carried forward in the Twin Cities, has just brought to light an inhabitant of these parts hitherto unknown in this section. While one of the city wagons was engaged in loading rubbish back of the business houses on Second avenue near the Masonic theatre, a horned toad, called also horned lizard, horned viper, and last but by no means least, known by the name of Phrynosoma cornuta, was found.
These lizards have several horn-like spines on the head, and a broad, flat body, covered with spiny scales. They inhabit the dry, sandy plains from California to Mexico and Texas. The animal has been placed in a wire cage by the boys at the Albany fire department, it has already attracted considerable curiosity. How the horned toad ever happened to get this far away from its natural haunts is a mystery.

Athens Resident Explains Status

According to a statement published in this issue of The Daily and signed by Bruce Nelson, prominent Athens resident, he refutes the intimation which had been published in some sections that he is involved in the financial difficulties of the Bruce Nelson company, incorporated. Mr. Nelson, it is said, has not been connected with the company in several years. His many friends in this section are directed to his personal statement.

FLOOD WATERS RIP THROUGH CREVICES AND DOZEN CITIES APPEAR IN DANGER

Break Is Now Spreading Rapidly In Six Parishes In Louisiana
RIVER FALLING AT NATCHEZ THURSDAY
Tension Is Relieved At Some Points By The Big Break
(International News Service.)
MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 27—Flood waters of the Mississippi river today had ripped a mile wide crevice through the main levee on the Louisiana shore across from Natchez, Miss., and were fast inundating a dozen towns in six parishes, doing vast damage to crops and property.
First reports this morning said the break was a mile wide and spreading rapidly. The sea of water was menacing the population of about 10,000 persons and probably 20 miles of territory.
With the water pouring through this huge path in the main levee, embankments, the river began to fall at points north of Natchez and is relieving the dangerous tension at other points.
In the immediate path of the flood are the towns of Ferriday, Junks, Clayton, Vidalia, Wildsville and Frogmore, all in Louisiana. Four parishes were inundated partly this morning, including Concordia, Tensas, Catahoula and Abbeville. The second behind the break is one of the richest farming districts in Louisiana, devoted largely to cotton planting.
The train service on all railroad lines in the territory was suspended during the night.
At nine o'clock this morning 200 families living in the vicinity of Roydras, 10 miles below New Orleans, on the west bank of the river, were fleeing from the flood, coming through a 100 yard long break there, according to reports at the government headquarters here.
Points in Arkansas, along the Mississippi levee, were reported as safe. Government engineers here told the International News Service that the break across the river from Natchez would not lessen the danger at points immediately above and below Memphis.

WASHINGTON, April 27—The governors of Arkansas and Louisiana were advised today by telegraph by Representative Humphrey, of Mississippi, to issue appeals for help for flood sufferers in their respective states.

Humphrey said that on the issuance of such appeals by the governors, he would urge President Harding to issue a national appeal for aid and was confident the country would respond to the President's call.

NATCHEZ, Miss., April 27—The crevice in Wekeema levee was 200 yards wide and widening rapidly at 12:30 o'clock, according to authentic reports received here and it will be exceedingly difficult to tie the ends. The Red Cross today is establishing a refugee camp under the direction of Lieutenant Maurice Geisenberger.

AUTO TAKEN

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 27—One good touring car and 27 gallons of liquor passed into the hands of law enforcement agents in Shelby county Tuesday night. Two men were in possession of the car and liquor but they preferred their liberty to their holdings.

DETROIT MANUFACTURER AGREES TO ASSUME ALL RESPONSIBILITY FOR POSSIBLE ACTION ON GORGAS PLANT

W. B. Mayo Appears Before House Military Affairs Committee With Changes In the Offer for Shoals
AGREES TO PAY INTEREST ON FUND SPENT ON FLOWAGE RIGHT
Ford Further Agrees To Abide By Whatever Action Congress Decides On At End of One Hundred Years

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, April 27—Henry Ford, through W. B. Mayo, chief of his engineers, today made several material modifications to his offer to lease from the government its Muscle Shoals, Ala., nitrate and waterpower project.
Mayo, appearing as Ford's spokesman before the house military affairs committee, in executive session, agreed, it was learned, to the following contract changes:
1. Ford agreed to pay 4 per cent on the money necessary to be spent by the government to obtain the flowage rights at Dam Number 3.
2. Assume responsibility for any damages, lawsuits, or other legal entanglements which may accrue to the government at the Gorgas plant, through possible action of the Alabama Power company.
3. Agree to abide by whatever action congress may take at the end of the 100 year lease term, as to whether to be continued.
From an authoritative source it was learned, however, that the committee will not favor Ford's proposal unless additional modifications are made to provide that the Gorgas dam, now the property of the Alabama Power company, shall not be included in the property sought by Ford.
Another point on which the committee will insist is that Ford strengthen contractual agreements to manufacture fertilizer whether its production means profits or loss to him.
It is intimated that the committee may again ask Ford of his representatives to say whether they will agree to these further changes.

TRIBUTE PAID TO CONFEDERATE DEAD

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 27—The birthplace of the Confederacy Wednesday paid tribute to the thousands of southern men who gave their lives in support of the government which was founded in Montgomery during the sixties. The capitol where the ordinance of secession was adopted and where the plans for the organization of the new government were made was closed while all officials and employees took part in memorial exercises.
The ceremony was started with a parade through the streets of the city with General Hal T. Walker as grand marshal and Col. Bibb Graves as assistant grand marshal. All civic, patriotic and fraternal organizations joined in the parade which was organized in the business section and proceeded to Oakwood cemetery.
At the cemetery the annual memorial address was delivered by Marion Rushton, assistant attorney general of Alabama. Appropriate exercises were also held preceding the decoration of the graves of countless unknown soldiers who gave their lives during the war and whose bodies were interred in the cemetery.
The bronze star on the portico of the capitol, erected in recognition of the spot where Jefferson Davis stood when he took the oath as the first and only president of the Confederate States of America, was covered with floral wreaths.

Odd Fellows to Banquet Tonight

The members of Albany and Fairview lodges I. O. O. F. are making every preparation for the anniversary meeting of this order to be held in the Odd Fellows hall on Second avenue tonight. The meeting will convene at 7:30 o'clock and considerable pains have been taken to have the musical part of the program well up to the standard offered by the membership of this well known order. The meeting tonight will celebrate the 103rd anniversary of the founding of the order in America. Indications point to a large attendance of Odd Fellows in the Twin Cities and surrounding country.

FUNERAL IS HELD FOR SLAIN OFFICERS

(International News Service)
ANNISTON, Ala., April 27—With the entire police force of the city in attendance and the mayor and city council members forming an honorary escort, impressive funeral services were held today over the bodies of city detectives Joe Holliday and Brice Hurst, who were killed early Wednesday morning by Marshal Welch, another member of the city police force.
The funeral of Mr. Hurst was held from his late residence at one o'clock with Rev. J. T. McGlothlin, of the Parker Memorial Baptist church, in charge. The body of the dead officer was interred at Edgemont cemetery. Mr. Holliday's funeral was held at 3 o'clock. Both of the services were attended by hundreds of sympathizing friends.
The two officers were killed by Officer Welch during an argument which arose over the alleged report by the detectives that Welch and his partner, Ernest Davis, were sleeping on duty last Sunday morning on West Fifteenth street.
Chief Rutledge made the statement Wednesday that neither of the dead men knew anything of the report which had reached him from another source. Warrants charging Welch and Davis with murder in the first degree were sworn out late Wednesday afternoon.
Welch admitted from the first that he killed both of the men and making the statement that Davis was not involved in the difficulty. Welch claims that Holliday drew his own gun and that he shot first, Hurst being killed by accident.

Mellon Denies Big Swindle Story

WASHINGTON, April 27—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon today reiterated the denial that the country was flooded with millions of dollars worth of spurious bonds, but said that a new investigation would be instituted at once, because of charges in congress that such a condition exists.
Mellon admitted there had been some duplication of numbers of bonds but said the government had suffered no losses from these duplications and that the errors had been corrected as soon as they were discovered.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID
FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.ANOTHER GREAT WATER POWER PROBLEM.

The present overflow of the Mississippi river brings the country face to face with another great river waters, such as confronts on the Tennessee river system in the world.

The proper regulation of the Mississippi, has many times been referred to as a great problem as was the building of the Panama canal. If the federal government undertakes to make the Mississippi delta safe for agriculture, railroads and industrial enterprises, it will find that it has a thought and endeavor. We who are removed from the delta region and its devastating floods may find it hard to realize the predicament in which the Mississippi valley people find themselves at this time. Recent dispatches from the flood menaced country says:

"Every available man and team and every piece of levee building machinery in the entire central sector of the river will be at work tomorrow in an effort to prevent a break in the line of embankments."

Just as Holland is continually on the guard against a leak in her dykes, so the people of the fertile delta of the Mississippi are continually menaced with fears of a freshet that in a few hours time may destroy or sweep away the labors and earnings of a life time. Any section that is continually in fear of a great annual invasion of death dealing waters, can never come into its own, hence it is the plain duty of the government to take steps to forever do away with the dangers of a Mississippi flood. Already a great work has been achieved in reclaiming the swamps and low lands of the delta, and a new empire has sprung up there in the last score of years. Shall such advancement be nullified by a few spring freshets? If it is at all practicable the government should build so well and so permanently along the danger zone of the Mississippi river as to banish the possibility and hence the fear of another such overflow such as the present one, for all time to come.

SIMONDS TAKES GLOOMY VIEW.
AS TO EUROPEAN WAR PROSPECTS.

Frank H. Simonds, than whom there is no more widely read author on international affairs, is just out with a series of articles dealing with the grave situation in Europe. He states that it is the German-Russian treaty that is causing the trouble just at present. He says that France and Poland believe themselves menaced by the treaty in question and that "only the weariness which exists among the peoples of Europe may at the last moment restrain action"; the writer probably meaning by "action" military activity. Then he adds as if fearful war would come any way:

"Yet so great and acute is the danger to France and to Poland, of this new Russo-German alliance, that it is doubtful if even weariness will restrain either."

Simonds seems to regard the Russo-German alliance as a war league. He says that all the small nations carved out of Germany, Russia and Austria following the World war are in great danger of losing their identity as nations. France is described as having had to fight the Teutons in almost every century of the history of the two peoples, and as understanding the German war mind better than any other people, and Simonds declared that France believes that if Russia and Germany are allowed to proceed with their present plans Europe will be drenched in blood again, in a few more years? Referring to the view point on this side the Atlantic ocean regarding European conditions Mr. Simonds says:

"The difficulty in interpreting the present crisis to the American audience lies in the fact that in this country there is no general appreciation of the real gravity of the European condition. Superficially, the European condition has seemed to improve latterly. The Washington conference furnished an illusion of peace and of sanity. But in recent months, in the last two months in particular, conditions have actually worsened at a tremendous pace."

Since the god of Mars was scolded down so violently, as a result of the late World War, since people everywhere are so appalled and heart sick over the results of war, and public sentiment is so universally opposed to another war, it is difficult to go along with the views expressed by Mr. Simonds. But the facts he expresses are undisputed. And his claim that unless the Genoa conference quits playing politics and gets down to a peace business basis war must result, seems valid. But the Genoa conference does not get down to business, and politics seems to be the whole game. One thing is pretty certain, that if another world war comes on as large a scale as the last one this country will be almost compelled to take sides, just as we were forced in 1917. If such a time does come those bitter ends who prevented this nation taking a firm stand against war, by entering and helping to direct the League of Nations, will wish for the hills and mountains to fall upon them as a covering against their shame and selfishness, in playing politics while the fires of war were being kindled in Central Europe.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Fifty-seven years after Appomattox the women of the South still hold green the memory of the Confederate dead. Fifty-seven years after, they have not forgotten. They remember from personal observation or from stories handed down to them by mothers and fathers who did see the awful drama, that every man in gray bore a leaden cross as the price of immortality.

As expressing best the sentiments which all true Southerners feel on this occasion, we will quote here some verses written by Mr. Gustave Frederick Mertins, of Montgomery, which were read at the Memorial Day exercises a year ago. The poem, entitled, "The March of the Mystic Men," is as follows:

"Comes a lilting song of bugles down the balmy winds of Spring,
As my heart calls back its heroes to the world's bright flowering,
Treading roseate clouds of glory, march these mystic men in gray,
While I kneel with all the Southland, for today's Memorial Day.

"These men sleep no more in valleys; no more hillsides claim their dust;
No more death and no more anguish—gone the canker and the rust.
And the living men—their comrades—lift we also to those skies
Where now march the white-souled warriors in a love that never dies.

"All are Lee and all are Jackson as our brimming eyes behold;
For in love are all commissioned, wearing each the gray and gold.
Marching, marching, ever marching, come these heroes without stain
And the Stars and Bars precedes them, never to be furled again.

"Not for wars and not for battles does that silken banner float;
Not for signal to wild combat comes that silvery bugle-note,
But as symbols of a glory that shall never fade away,
O my Soul! be at attention! for they pass—the men in gray."

To the members of the Ladies Memorial Association whose organization touches virtually every community in the South, is due the credit for the long sustained success of the Memorial Day idea. The Ladies Memorial Association is the agency which has taken upon itself the particular duty of honoring the Confederate dead each spring. It arranges for and directs the fitting services which are gratefully remembered by everyone who has known the South in the more than half century which has elapsed since Johnston's surrender which brought the war to a final end.—Montgomery Advertiser.

NATIONAL LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS
NOT UNREASONABLE IN THEIR DEMANDS.

The National League of Women Voters, in session in Baltimore this week, has before it a set of resolutions in which the principles and the demands of the League are outlined. The women voters do not make unreasonable demands. They ask what appears to be a fair deal for women in public life, and they declare for what most people can well afford to endorse—the outlawing of all wars.

The women in this country now are a part of the body politic. They have been given the right to say what they wish done and the right to try to do it. Through the ballot the women can exert an influence as powerful as that of the men. And the women, it is noted, invariably ask for only the things that are best for all the people.

Take for example the following demands set forth in the resolutions adopted at the Baltimore convention:

Election or appointment of women on all committees of the political parties.
Appointment of women on all school boards.
Active support of legislation establishing the independent citizenship of married women.

Extension of citizenship schools for voters.
Federal and state legislation to promote the cause of women in industry.
Uniform marriage and divorce laws throughout the United States.

These all are reasonable demands. They are things the women have a right to ask and they are things reasonable men would be willing to grant them. The League has declared against wars, and when you come to think of it, the women are the chief sufferers always from war, and their stand on this question is the natural result of having to pay the price they always pay for wars in which men engage.

Women voters may not get at once the reforms they wish, but if they keep on qualifying as voters, and take the part in elections they are entitled to take, it will not be long until they will get most of their objectives.—Anniston Star.

From the cradle to the grave is a rugged way; along the way is strewn pitfalls and dangers which lurk in the path of all. To successfully make the journey requires constant care and piloting. In infancy the pilot is the mother; how tenderly the frail barque is cared for over the shoals and tempests which come in the lives of all. When emerging from infancy into childhood this same care is expended with a little latitude issued to the young sprite. When manhood estate is reached and we look out on the perspective of life, the steersman is one self; being the helmsman and rudder over which the pitfalls and rocks must be avoided. We cannot carelessly pass this way without carrying scars of the journey. To successfully elude them all is almost beyond control. There must be that constant outlook on the forward bow of the ship of life, peering into the darkness which lies out beyond, through which no eye can penetrate. Faith must at all times be present; faith in one self; faith in others; faith in life and its purposes; faith in God and the future. With such a chart as this to steer by the least possible danger from shipwrecks along life's journey are imminent; without this chart and compass, the trip is most perilous and few there be who make the port of safety.

THE ETERNAL TRIANGLE

A man and a maid in love. They get married and they live happily for one or two years. Then they drift apart as people sometimes have been known to do in the course of time. Wife feels neglected and husband sulks. It's the psychological moment for a third party to appear and so complete this eternal triangle.

Once there was a woman who said she would be ready in a minute and was ready in exactly 59 seconds.

A Good Example of Judicious Co-operation

Two lawyers (it won't do to tell their names) are joshing each other and being joshed quite a bit by their friends over an incident that occurred recently when one of them was asked to sit as a special judge in a "boot-legging" case. The one who was temporarily wearing the judicial ermine was in doubt as to what penalty to fix in the case. He called up his fellow barrister and said: "Say, John, I've got a bootlegger here and don't know what to give him."

"Well, about $6.00 a quart, and say, can you get a couple for me?"

There is just one way to cure a scap-hunter: give him a bigger snoutful of trouble than he is trying to hand you.

Results in Half the Usual Time!
The reason Ironized Yeast brings such amazing results is because it not only contains just the right amount of all three essential vitamins, but in addition contains a type of yeast which has positively no equal as a reconstructive agent—a yeast which is cultured expressly for medicinal purposes, and which is entirely different from the yeast found in ordinary "yeast tablets."

But even more important than this is the fact that this yeast has been ironized—or treated through a scientific process with a special form of easily assimilated organic iron, similar to the iron found in spinach. When yeast is ironized in this manner it is found that results are not only more permanent, but are secured just twice as quickly!

The Way Madge Conquered Herself and Dicky Left.

DICKY was going to see Edith Fairfax!

This was the thought which made me stand motionless for a breathless second or two after I had, at his request, turned out his light. Indeed, I was incapable of motion, for the sound of the girl's name, the knowledge that she was again on Dicky's horizon had been like unexpected blows in the face.

She must have returned from the West Virginia mountains to which I knew she had gone with Aunt Dora Paige for a much-needed rest. I had hoped that after the genuine remorse which had wrung her for her unwitting share in the terrible affair of Junior's kidnapping, the nervous breakdown, which was the result of that awful time, she would yield to the devotion of Dr. Jim Paige, the distant cousin who had been her loving slave since her childhood. I had counted on her forgetting the hopeless love for Dicky which had tortured her and had caused me so much mental anguish. But if she were back in Marvin—

I broke off my mental musings at this point to score myself savagely for my folly. All this emotion over the trifling fact that Dicky had asked me to put a Spanish comb which Edith had left at our home in the spring into his bag so that he could give it to her! If the comb had belonged to almost any other woman of my acquaintance I would have thought nothing of the incident. And the very casualness of the request, its openness, ought to have shown me that there was nothing in Dicky's attitude about which I needed to worry.

"What the devil are you doing there in the dark? Can't you find your way out of the room?"

Dicky's voice came crossly from the bed.

"I'm going this second," I returned, hastening out of the room, thankful that I had escaped further catechism. It was bad enough not to be able to control my jealousy of Edith Fairfax, but to betray it to Dicky as I already unavoidably had done once or twice, was unthinkable.

Try as I might, however, I could not put out the flame of my jealous pain with the fire-extinguisher of common sense. I wonder how many other women have tried the same dampening process only to find the flames flaring up more brightly than ever.

Lucky for Edith, I imagine, that we live in a civilized age. I shudder to think with what subtle poison a medieval ancestress of mine might have impregnated the teeth of the fragile, beautiful comb which I fastened securely in its case and put into Dicky's bag in the early morning after many sleepless hours.

What Madge Wondered.

I tried to comfort myself with the remembrance of the remorse which had been Dicky's for his absence motoring with Edith upon that day Junior was kidnapped. At that moment I knew he had hated her, and I also hugged the remembrance to my mind of the months of quiet devotion from my husband which had been my lot since that time. Upon one memorable day in the Catskills he had declared with emphasis that he was "through" with all philandering, that he had "gotten his" when Junior was stolen, and that thenceforth I would have to provide all the thrills aside from a humdrum domestic existence.

But—I knew my Peter Pan, and I wondered if so long an imprisonment in the domestic cage, even though it was voluntary, were not palling upon him, if he were not beginning to feel the vague restlessness which generally preceded some escapade, harmless enough in itself, but distinctly trying for me.

There was but one thing to do, however, and that was to speed him on his journey with casual, affectionate cheerfulness, letting no hint of my fears escape me, and I succeeded so well that I think Dicky, with masculine inconsistency, actually resented my cheerful casualness at parting.

"I may stay down," he said, as we drew up to the station.

"There's no reason why you can't stay as long as you like," I responded promptly. Everything is going on swimmingly at home now, and we really don't need you."

"So Long, Old Dear."

"Oh, you needn't rub it in that I'm only a sort of fifth wheel around the menage!" he retorted with a cross imitation which made me suddenly remorseful, but not enough to make me alter the tactics which I was sure were best with my volatile spouse.

"You're the whole four wheels, and also the steering gear," I returned lightly. "But here comes to train. Have a nice trip, and give my love to Her Puffiness, Edith and Lella."

Into Dicky's eyes sprang a malicious little gleam.

"I'll just do that little thing," he said. "And I'll kiss 'em all around for you in the bargain. Well, so long, old dear. Take the best of care of yourself."

NOTICE

To the Taxpayers of Austinville:

I am now making a list of the delinquent taxes, also the assessment for public improvement which consists in sanitary toilets and I have been instructed by the council to turn them over to the registrar in chancery for collection, in which case the cost will exceed the taxes, so please come forward and settle same and save time and cost.

R. V. BRACKEN, Town Clerk. adv. 27-3t.

325 Cases On The County's Docket

Judge W. T. Lowe, of the Morgan county court, is authority for the statement that he has upwards of 325 cases docketed for trial before him. It is quite likely that he will be compelled to call a term of this court soon to relieve the heavy docket which has accumulated.

Y. M. C. A. Campaign Going Forward With Many New Gains In The Membership

The Y. M. C. A. membership campaign which opened on Monday morning is going forward with good gains, according to the leaders. Owing to the off day Saturday at the shops, it is thought the drive will not conclude next Monday, as was originally planned, but will continue for one day longer. The additions to the shop membership made by the uptown canvassers has materially increased the good lead of 150 as announced at the close of the first day.

Secretary Hartung, when seen yesterday evening, stated that complete records had not been made, as in many instances the regular forms had not been filled out, hence many new memberships could not be counted as yet. Chairman Matthews said that from what he could gather something like a hundred new members and renewals were turned in yesterday. It was pointed out in the first report that Foreman Hodson and his helpers of the car department were leading and such still seems to be the case. Inquiries of carmen passing to and from their work, brought out the information that large percentages of the car builders and repairers were lining up for the "Y" this year. A large placard higher than the shops fence and 12 feet wide, stands at the entrance of the shop yards, announcing the present membership drive, with a hearty invitation to join. Among the authorities quoted in support of the claims of the Y. M. C. A. the name of Woodrow Wilson appears appended to his well known conclusion that a community's value is measured by the interest taken in its Y. M. C. A. Today Dr. B. F. Austin, county health officer, entertained the shopmen with stereopticon views showing the effects of the ravages of nameless diseases upon the human system. Attention was called to the fact that the association teaching was squarely against any kind of thinking that would ever admit of taking any kind of risks as regards venereal diseases. Dr. Austin was introduced by Executive Secretary C. J. Randolph, who in connection with his regular duties is taking a large share in the campaign for new members. On such days as the weather permits, volleyball is being played at the noon hour by the shopmen who are members of the association.

MASONIC APRIL 28

The Anniston Star and Hot Blas had the following to say regarding a recent appearance of the University Glee club in that city: "The University of Alabama Glee club, appearing in Anniston for the first time in several years, was greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience at the Lyric theatre last night. Every number rendered by the university artists was given hearty applause and the program was declared to be the best musical feature that has appeared in a local theatre this season. The combination of splendid natural talent and excellent training was apparent, the selections by the young singers proving an almost blending of voices.

"The quartet was well received on every appearance and the Novelty Five also made a splendid hit. The singing of 'Sleep, Kentucky Babe' by the entire club proved a very enjoyable feature of the evening and was followed by loud applause. Encores were frequent and the crowd seemed to feel that each number called for more. The singing of 'Alma Mater,' with all alumni standing and joining in the chorus, was the closing part of the program and proved to be a fitting climax to the evening of fun, music and pleasure."

The Alabama Glee club will appear on Friday evening, April 28, at the Masonic theatre.

Decatur School News

NOW DO MY WORK WITH EASE

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored My Health

Hornell, N. Y.—"I was in bed half the time and there didn't seem to be any one thing that would make me feel better. I was tired out all over and it was an effort for me to move. I was irritable and could not sleep at night and had trouble with my bowels and at my periods. It seemed that nearly every one around me knew of your medicine and wanted me to try it. So at last I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it improved every day. I do all my own work now except the washing and do it with ease. I can accomplish as much in a day now as I would have taken me a week to do last winter and I try to get every one I know to take your medicine to build them up. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you like."—Mrs. CHAS. BAKER, 21 Spencer Ave., Hornell, N. Y.

In almost every neighborhood there are women who know of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know because they have taken it and have been helped. Why don't you give it a trial?

In view of the fact that the Bruce Nelson Co., Inc., a corporation of Athens, Alabama, has recently made an assignment for the benefit of its creditors, and as that corporation had my name as part of its corporate name and many persons of Limestone County, Alabama, and elsewhere have mistakenly received the impression that the firm with which I am connected and in which I am interested Hightower, Nelson & Co., is the one which made an assignment, I feel called upon to state to the public that I have had no connection with the Bruce Nelson Co., Inc., and have owned no interest in that corporation since the latter part of the year 1915. advt. #### Power of the Eye.

Dr. Charles Russ, an English physician, claims to have discovered by a delicate instrument, that there is force propelled from the eye, in the ray of vision. That is quite likely. Greek writers suggested this 2,500 years ago. We have long known the power of the "hypnotic eye" and the Italians believe in the "evil eye."

Mixed Radiations.
The radiation of heat and light just above the earth's surface is a mixture of radiations from the sun, the sky and the earth itself. With an Arago actinometer of perfected calibration, J. Vallot, as reported to the French academy, has been able to estimate the relative proportions. In the clear atmosphere of Nice the earth appears to be the source of about 7 per cent of the total radiation; the sky, of about 25 per cent, and the remainder represents the portion coming directly from the sun.

W. M. BAILEY
"Things for Men and Little Men"
BANK STREET
DECATUR, ALA.

DEAREST ALICE:

Every since you wrote me about the trip you have planned for summer, I have been looking in all the store windows to see the things that you need. Just today, I stopped at W. M. Bailey's on Bank street in Decatur and saw some beautiful silk hose all shades, just the ones for you; then right across from Mr. Bailey at the Fashion, what should I see but a darling henna hat? One that will make your eyes glimmer. If your suit needs dry cleaning send it to the Over-sea Cleaning and Pressing Parlor, they do such nice work.

Now, Alice, of all things you must have your feet look well, you can get lovely shoes from Moseley-Eggers Shoe Company in Albany, they give a 10 percent discount. You could afford to buy several new pair there by sending your old ones to Freeman's Shoe Shop for they do splendid work. Your hair is so becoming to you curled, so why not go to Jackson Electric Company and buy some electric curling irons? They are so easily handled. If you want to see a fine line of toilet articles (you will need some of all kinds) go to Beason-Cobb Drug Company and you can get just what you want. Do not forget to go to Graves to get your stationery as he has decided the prettiest I ever saw. Oh! I forgot to tell you that the Eskimo Pies are delicious that are made at Clayton's, so while you are in the Beason-Cobb get you one. Am so glad that your car came from the North Alabama Auto and Accessory Company; their Studebakers are so pretty, but take my advice and go to the Twin City Tire Company and get several extra tires as your trip is a long one; before you drive your car come to Gover Brothers Insurance Agency and take out some insurance on you and the car, for you know accidents will happen sometimes.

All right, enough said about your trip. We will be all torn up for awhile because our house is going to be repainted with the best paint from Sam Frank's, we are going to have our hardwood floors put in from A. D. Smith Company as you know their material is of the best quality, and a new light fixture because we found out that Mr. Mullen had the very kind we wanted; as a furnace is to be put in, the pipe will come from the Sheet Metal Works, for they make them. If you want to see a beautiful living room set just look in the Morgan Furniture Company.

When you come to see me, Alice, I will see that you have plenty of Coca-Cola and other drinks that are manufactured by the Coca-Cola Bottling Works, plenty of fried chickens that have been fed on feed from Morgan County Feed Store. You certainly will enjoy the milk and cream from the Fennell-Davis Dairy Depot because it is all pasteurized. We go to the Decatur Cafe for dinner on Sundays, they give such good service, the roast beef is especially good because it comes from the Ideal Meat Market. I saw where A. C. Joiner and Son carry a good line of canned goods, so I think we will try them as they are always needed.

Did I tell you that the U. D. C.'s are trying to build a monument? I hope they get it from the Southern Stone and Marble Company. This reminds me of what beautiful florals were gotten from the City Park Green House for the Confederate Soldiers on Decoration Day, they were gotten there because they always have such pretty red and white flowers. Be sure and tell your brother when he decides to get his bicycle to get a Dayton from N. W. George's, for they are so good and last so long.

Hoping you have good time.

Lovingly,

MAE.

HARTSELLE BUREAU OF ALBANY-DECATUR DAILY

J. ADLAI WEST, Correspondent.

Leave items of general interest, including social, personals, current happenings, at Peoples Drug Company.

J. C. Huckaby who spent some time at a Birmingham infirmary submitting to a major operation, has been at home for the past three weeks and is on the road to recovery. Mr. Huckaby hopes to be out in a few days, having gained back much of his normal good health. His many friends are glad to know he is fast recuperating.

Hartselle is fast becoming famous as a strawberry town. Every day there can be seen many coming from the district near the town loaded with crates of this delicious small fruit. There is also in the town proper many nice patches of this luscious fruit. Much of the crop is finding sale to the merchants here. The surplus is shipped to Albany-Decatur and Nashville. It is quite probable when the crop harvest is in full swing, which will be next week, there is a probability that a car shipment will go forward to some of the northern markets. Many who planted for home use have added to this space from time to time and now there is a decided surplus.

County Agent W. G. Johnson is making active plans to properly advertise and take care of the mass meeting planned for this place May 5th at 10 o'clock at which time C. A. Cobb, editor of the Southern Ruralist of Atlanta, Ga., will address the gathering on the benefits to be derived from the farmer's cotton pool in which they hope to save from five to fifteen dollars per bale the coming season. Only one other county in the state, it is stated, has a large number of bales signed up in the pool than this county.

The social life of the town will be greatly augmented soon by the arrival home of a score or more of young men and women who are of at different schools in different states of the U. S. The Womans college at Montgomery has several, some at Montevallo, several young men at Vanderbilt, some in New York City some in Atlanta. Their return home is eagerly looked for by the families and friends at home.

It is quite likely that the city authorities will take some action during the summer months to get an adequate water supply for fire protection for the city. It has been proposed to establish at different points over the city fire plugs to be supplied with water pressure from the water works equipment installed several years ago. This plan if fallen upon will materially advance the fire fighting facilities of the town. Due to the fact there is no waterworks construction adequate enough to prove effective in fire fighting, insurance rates are excessively high. It is understood that the supply now being furnished many of the stores and some residences of the town is adequate for fire supply also.

The play, "Toney, the Convict," was played again by request at the grammar school auditorium Monday evening. The play again drew a splendid audience. Those who attended gave the interpretation of the play great praise, insisting it was one of the very best played here in some time. The proceeds went for school improvement.

Final examinations are being held at the Morgan county high school this week getting ready for the annual commencement. The first item of the commencement program will be the commencement sermon Sunday, May 7th, delivered by Dr. J. A. Duncan. This in itself will be a great treat, as Dr. Duncan is one of the most scholarly and gifted of the ministers in the North Alabama conference. Special music is being gotten ready for the occasion, and a great day is anticipated. The annual commencement exercises of this school each year brings large numbers of out of town people here.

It has been quite noticeable recently the large number of traveling salesmen who are making this point. A group of them were heard in conversation recently and were heard to remark, as they put the question to each one, "how's business?" In every instance they were heard to remark that business is getting better all the time. If there is one person who knows precisely how business is, it is the drummer. His business is business, and unless he gets business there will be no drummers.

The business men of Hartselle have stocked up larger the present season than any time since the great war. Many have gone on from season to season with just goods enough to hold the business together. This season is an exception. The stores are well stocked with seasonable goods and all report business satisfactory.

Hartselle has the advantage of a first class dairy operated near the town. Each morning the dairy wagon is in town bright and early delivering milk and butter to many customers in the town. The milk is delivered in sealed pint and quart bottles, the industry evidently making money for its owner.

Hartselle produce dealers report the largest dealings in poultry and eggs the present spring than for many years. There is never a day but that large quantities of both eggs and chickens are shipped to the northern and extreme southern markets.

Ash Best Material for Bats.

In making baseball bats no substitute for wood has been found, says the American Forestry Magazine. Ash has won the leading place. Several qualities must be considered in selecting wood for bats, but the most essential are weight and strength. The shock and strain are severe at the moment of impact when the well-aimed blow meets the flying ball in midair and almost instantly stops it and sends it in the opposite direction. If the wood is not excellent the blow shatters it.

The cheapest buy on the transportation market today is a GOOD used automobile

You can look this country over before you'll find used cars at a cheaper price than we sell them. It is our business—selling automobiles. We know you must have a CHEAP price before you will buy. And if you do not buy, our business isn't functioning at its proper speed. But don't take ours or anyone's word necessarily that our cars are cheap. Drop by and examine the price list yourself. The price is something tangible, something you can see, something you know all about before you make the purchase. You may not be familiar with our liberal terms; and that is something we would like to explain to you.

But consider this at the same time. There is the matter of condition. The value the price offers you is based solely on the condition of the car you buy. Condition is something the technically untrained eye does not see. It constitutes the only risk you run in buying a used car, but in our salesrooms we take over all of that risk. We eliminate it for you, because—

Former Resident Talks of Ford

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Cook enroute from Florida, where they spent the winter, to their home at Toledo, Ohio, have been at Hotel Lyons the past few days. They have many friends here who are always glad to see them. Mr. Cook in conversation with a reporter of The Daily had to say "that the eyes of the north were on the south, and the wonderful possibilities and its tremendous natural advantages." In speaking of Henry Ford, Mr. Cook said, "I have known him many years and has coming to this part of the country would develop the South to the Ohio line. He is a wonderful man, has the money, probably more ready money than any living man and knows how to use it for the general benefit of men as well as himself."

Prof. Sherrill III At Home In Flint

The many friends of Professor J. B. Sherrill will be sorry to know that he is not improving at his home at Flint. Professor Sherrill has perhaps built more school buildings than any other one man in the country. He had a way of enthusing communities to the educational ideas, and was very efficient in planning and helping to carry forward the work of building. The school building which he was largely instrumental in erecting in various parts of the state stand as a monument to his earnestness. Due to his efforts a new school brick building is soon to be erected at Flint where he has taught for some time.

Marines Guarding American Embassy

(International News Service.)

PEKIN, April 27.—One hundred and twenty American marines from the battleship Huron, of the Asiatic fleet, arrived here today to protect the American legation. The fresh guards are encamped on the Marie compound.

PROPOSAL OPPOSED

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 27.—(Special.) Citizens residing on the Opp-Florida branch of the Louisville and Nashville railroad today submitted a score or more letters to the public service commission in opposition to the railroad's proposal to discontinue one of its passenger trains on the branch. They contend that the convenience of those residing on the line will be seriously interfered with and connections with other cities cut off.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 27.—A fair demand at the opening of the cotton market today advanced three to 11 points. It was based on further heavy rains in Texas and reports of floods from the southwest. Liverpool spot houses and Wall street were among the buyers and New Orleans and commission concerns sold. The list later met scattered local selling and eased off four or five points.

Corns Vanish When Touched With 'Gets-It'

As a sponge absorbs water, so does "Gets-It" absorb and draw out of any tender corn, big or little, all pain and soreness. It never fails. "Gets-It" is the original corn and callus peeler. Be sure to ask for it by name and refuse substitutes. Money back if not satisfied, costs but a trifle—everywhere. R. Lawrence & Co., Mfr., Chicago.
